Robotics Conference

- Fourth time in a row the scope of IS multiconference
- We aim to initiate interdisciplinary collaboration between (but not limited to) robotic researchers
- The scope of the conference:
  - humanoid robotics, robotic learning, nano-robotics, exoskeletons, mobile robots
- We want Robotics to become an important and traditional part of IS.
Contributions

- 12 research papers on different topics
- Invited lecture:

  Gerald Steinbauer, Graz University of Technology: Dependability of Autonomous Robots
